

Campbells Creek Platy Patch Walk & Talk

Learn how you can help our platypus thrive

Celebrate National Threatened Species Day with a community event dedicated to one of Australia's most iconic and fascinating creatures.

Hear from experts at the Australian Platypus Conservancy and Friends of Campbells Creek, enjoy a delicious lunch, and join an optional guided walk along the creek to discover how you can help protect this threatened species and its habitat.

When: Sunday 7 September 10:30 – 3pm (lunch included)

Where: Campbells Creek (address provided at registration)

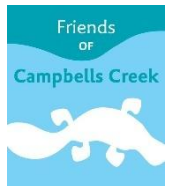

Register: Registration is essential for this free event - click here to sign up

Bring: Bring a water bottle and a sense of wonder. If joining the walk, dress for the weather including sun hat and wear enclosed walking shoes.

Please note: The morning session includes an indoor presentation tailored for adults. It may not be ideal for young children, especially those who prefer to be on the move.

Australian Government

Platy Patch is jointly funded by the Australian Government's Natural Heritage Trust under the Urban Rivers and Catchments Program, the Victorian Government, and Melbourne Water, under the guidance of the Arthur Rylah Institute (ARI), with the support of One Tree Planted, Ballarat City Council, Coliban Water, Zoos Victoria, and catchment management authorities.
